Forestry Serving Urbanised Societies

IUFRO European Regional Conference,
in collaboration with EFI
Copenhagen, Denmark, August 27-30, 2002

Organised in conjunction with the 9th EFI Annual Conference
Copenhagen, Denmark, August 26, 2002

Organised by:

IUFRO, International
Union of Forest Research
Organizations

E F I

European Forest Institute

Skov & Landskab

Danish Centre for Forest,
Landscape and Planning

The Urban Dimension of Forestry

Urbanisation to an increasing extent has its impact on forests and forestry. Forests have to meet the growing and diversifying demands for goods and services expressed by a society in which urban interests prevail. Additionally, an expanding forest area can now be found in and near our cities and towns. Forestry needs to make an effort to adapt to these changes in order to serve urban societies in a better way. Innovative approaches and strategic partnerships with other disciplines as well as a wide range of public and private actors are called for. The conference aims to identify promising approaches and developments towards making forestry serve urban societies. The role of forestry research as foundation for the development of forest policies, planning and management will be central.

Objectives

- To define the role of forestry and forest research within an increasingly urban society.
- To identify and explore promising scientific & technological findings with regard to the urban aspects of forestry and the prevailing role of urban decision makers.
- To identify new directions & strategies in forest research in the context of extended networking within forest research and with other disciplines to meet urban demands.

Who Should Participate?

The conference will be aimed at forest researchers from IUFRO or EFI member organisations as well as other institutions, forest and natural resource policy-makers, and researchers from related fields such as natural resource management, ecology, planning sciences, landscape architecture, and social sciences.

Conference Programme

Plenary Sessions

The plenary sessions of the conference will have several central themes, extending across the IUFRO divisional interests. Speakers from different disciplines will shine their light on how forestry can serve urbanised societies.

Opening Session

Welcome by representatives of the Danish government, IUFRO, EFI and Skov & Landskab.

Plenary Session I

The development of urban forestry – a people-based approach

Robert Miller (United States) Urban forestry: history and introduction

Thomas Randrup & Cecil Konijnendijk (Denmark) Urban forestry in Europe: status and prospects

Armando Palijon (Philippines) Urban forestry in Asia: state of the art

Plenary Session II

The environmental functions & benefits of forests and trees in urban societies

Timo Karjalainen (Finland) Forests and carbon sequestering:

status and prospects

Gregory McPherson (United States) Quantifying the environmental benefits of urban forests and trees

Sybrand Tjallingii (Netherlands) Sustainable urban green structures – the Ecopolis-concept revisited

Plenary Session III

Socio-economic aspects of forests and trees in urban societies

Max Krott (Germany) Policies and institutions for forests in urbanised societies

Colin Price (United Kingdom) Quantifying social and economic benefits of urban forests: a review

Heikki Juslin (Finland) Marketing of forest products serving urbanised societies

Plenary Session IV

Degraded land areas in urban societies & the need for innovative forest management

Ulrike Roßner (Germany) Ecology of disturbed landscapes: a case study from Germany

Nerys Jones (United Kingdom) Forests and trees for land regeneration: the UK example

Klaus von Gadow (Germany) Silvicultural management systems for urban forests

Plenary Session V

Threats to forests and their sustainability in urban societies

Piotr Paschalis (Poland) Sustainable forest management: problems, causes and concerns in changing societies of Europe

Elena Paoletti (Italy), Kevin Percy (Canada) & Peter Karnosky (Australia) Urban trees and air pollution

Francisco Rego (Portugal) Forest fires in urbanised societies: status and management

Plenary Session VI

Forests in urbanised societies – the social agenda

Rachel Kaplan (United States) The social and psychological values of forests and trees in urbanised societies

Sjerp de Vries (Netherlands) Assessing the health benefits of natural areas in urban societies

Frank Søndergaard Jensen & Niels Elers Koch (Denmark) 25 years of outdoor recreation research and its impacts on forest policy

Urbanised Societies

Closing Session

The role of research

Panel debate with representatives of IUFRO, EFI, other research institutions, non-governmental and policy organisations.

Parallel Sessions

Following the plenary sessions, participants will have the opportunity to choose from a range of concurrent sessions organised by IUFRO Divisions, Task Forces, Research Groups and Working Parties as well as the European Forest Institute. The contents of most sessions will be determined after a selection of abstracts. Please indicate the parallel sessions of your preference on the registration form.

RECOGNITION – Causes and consequences of increased forest growth in Europe

A special parallel meeting will be the open seminar on the final results and conclusions of the project Relationships between Recent Changes of Growth and Nutrition of Norway Spruce, Scots Pine, and European Beech Forests in Europe (RECOGNITION). This project is an EU-FAIR project led by the European Forest Institute. The afternoon seminar will present and discuss the project findings and include a press conference. For more information, please refer to: www.efi.fi/projects/recognition/

Technical Excursion

The conference excursion will provide the participants with an excellent taste of forests and forestry serving the Sound Region, the urbanised region with Greater Copenhagen and Malmö as its main cities. The tour will go to the famous urban woodland park of Jaegersborg Deer Park north of Copenhagen. Participants will be able to learn about managing ancient trees in an urban woodland whilst walking among the deer. The next stop will be the Vestskoven, a thirty-year old afforestation project west of Copenhagen. Then it's across the new Øresundsbridge between Denmark and Sweden to visit the Alnarp Landscape Laboratory in Sweden. We will show how landscape dynamics and management can be studied in real-life, open-air conditions.

A limited number of participants can join a parallel excursion focusing on the Danish hardwood industry especially arranged for IUFRO Division 5. The tour will look at timber processing, furniture making and the use of wood for energy. Places available will be given out on a first-come, first-serve basis

Social Events

Reception at Copenhagen City Hall, Tuesday, August 27

The reception is to be hosted by the City Council of Copenhagen at the City Hall (Town Hall Square/Rådhuspladsen). All Conference participants are invited. If you wish to attend the City Hall reception you will receive a personal invitation from the Lord Mayor of Copenhagen. After the reception you are invited to enjoy the beautiful Tivoli Gardens on your own. Please note that the reception will start punctually at 19:00 hrs. Kindly indicate on the registration form whether you wish to attend. Dress: informal.

Farewell Dinner, "the Sea Fort Trekroner," August 29 (departure at 19 hrs)

After 20 minutes by boat you will arrive at the old sea fort, which lies at the entrance to Copenhagen Harbour. The foundation of the sea fort was laid in 1786, and it was thanks to Trekroner and its 66 cannons and 18 naval vessels that the British fleet in 1801 was not able to enter Copenhagen Harbour. Nowadays the island is open for visitors. A maritime buffet will be served in a unique, historical atmosphere. Please mark on the Registration Form whether or not you want to participate at an additional cost of 600 DKK. Dress: Informal.

Accompanying Persons Tours

Two accompanying persons' excursions will be offered. The first, a city tour of Copenhagen, will take participants through the lovely Danish capital and its landmarks over land (by sightseeing bus) and by water on August 27. Visits will include the crown jewels at Rosenborg Castle and the gobelins at Christiansborg. Lunch in the city is included. The second tour is a tour of Northern Zealand on August 29. A bus ride along the beautiful coastline will take participants to the Louisiana art museum, the Kronborg castle known from Hamlet, as well as the castles of Fredensborg and Frederiksborg. Lunch will be in the historical harbour city of Elsinore (Helsingør). Both tours cost DKK 375.

9th EFI Annual Conference

Prior to the scientific conference, EFI will hold its 9th Annual Conference. This event is primarily aimed at present and potential EFI member organisations. Conference venue will be the Royal Veterinary and Agricultural University in central Copenhagen. Those attending the EFI Annual Conference are requested to complete the respective section of the Registration Form. A detailed agenda will be sent out to all EFI members at a later stage. For more information about the EFI Annual Conference, please contact Ms. Anu Ruusila (anu.ruusila@efi.fi) or visit the EFI website at www.efi.fi

Call for Abstracts

You are invited to submit abstracts on your research and development activities that are of relevance to the theme. The Scientific Organising Committee will make a selection of abstracts to be orally presented during the parallel sessions. There will also be an opportunity to present posters. Participants should note that registration for the conference is only possible by using the enclosed registration form; submitting an abstract is not a registration. Abstracts for both oral and poster presentations should be submitted by March 15, 2002, using the guidelines as given below. Please send your abstract in electronic form to:

Dr Cecil Konijnendijk
IUFRO-EFI 2002
Skov & Landskab, Danish Forest and Landscape Research Institute
E-mail cck@fsl.dk

Guidelines for abstracts

- Abstracts should be prepared in MS Word for Windows (version 6.0 or higher)
- Abstracts should include:
  - Brief but informative title
  - Full names, positions and addresses (including e-mail addresses) of all authors. Please indicate the corresponding author.
  - Brief text describing the contents of your proposed presentation.
  - Up to 5 keywords.
- The maximum number of words is 500.
- Abstracts should be written in good English. Please have your text edited for language.
- Font should be Times New Roman 12 points throughout.
- Top, bottom, left and right margins should be set at 2.5 cm.
- Abstract texts should be left and right aligned.
- Please refrain from using paragraph, heading or other codes.
- Indicate in the accompanying e-mail if you submit the abstract for an oral presentation and/or a poster.

Velkommen til Danmark & København!

Welcome to Denmark, a country with 5.2 million inhabitants of which 1.75 million live in the Greater Copenhagen area. The Danish monarchy is one of the oldest in the world, dating back to Gorm the Elder (who died in 958) up to the current monarch Margrethe II. Gorm the Elder ruled in the so-called Viking Era, the expansion time of the Nordic region. Vikings used their famous wooden sailing ships to establish connections with all of Europe, the Atlantic isles of Greenland and Island, and even North America and the Near East.

This international focus can still be found in modern Denmark. One example is the current close cooperation with Southern Sweden in the so-called Sound Region with its over 3.2 million inhabitants. The opening of the prestigious Øresundsbridge between the two countries in 2000 will further strengthen the cooperation within the region, not in the least with regards to research and development. The region hosts 4 science parks, 12,000 researchers and no less than 130,000 students. Although only 445,000 ha of Denmark's 43,094 km<sup>2</sup> are covered by them, forests play an important role in Danish society, for example as preferred destinations for outdoor recreation. About one third of the Danish forests is in public hands, while the remainder is owned privately and by institutions and organisations. The Danish Parliament has set the goal of doubling the forest area within one tree generation.

Organisers

IUFRO (International Union of Forest Research Organizations, <http://iufro.boku.ac.at>) is a non-profit, non-governmental international network of forest scientists. IUFRO has 681 member organisations in 106 countries. Its objectives are to promote international cooperation in forestry and forest products research. IUFRO's activities are organised primarily through its 268 specialised units in 8 technical Divisions.

EFI (European Forest Institute, www.efi.fi) is an independent, non-governmental organisation with over 130 member organisations in 35 countries. The institute has established itself as the leading forest research capacity at the European level.

Skov & Landskab, the Danish Centre for Forest, Landscape and Planning, is a mutually binding cooperation of the Danish Forest and Landscape Research Institute (www.fsl.dk), the Royal Veterinary and Agricultural University (www.kvl.dk) and the Danish Forestry College (www.sks.dk). The objective of the research centre is to generate and disseminate knowledge on forests, landscapes and planning. Skov & Landskab carries out research, education, and extension concerning forest, landscape and planning.

Transportation

Copenhagen International Airport (Kastrup, www.kastrup.dk) has been rated one of the best in the world. It serves a wide range of connections to all parts of Europe and the rest of the world. A regular train service connects the airport to the Central Railway Station of Copenhagen in less than 15 minutes. Trains depart every 20 minutes from the ground floor of Terminal 3. SAS operates a shuttle bus service every 15 minutes from Copenhagen Airport to the City Air Terminal/Central Railway Station. The 20-minute ride costs approximately DKK 40. A taxi from the Airport into the city centre starts from DKK 150 (no extra charges for suitcases). From the Central Railway Station, you can take bus no. 1 or 14 to Frederiksberg.

Official Airline

Scandinavian Airlines System (SAS) offers all delegates special discounts and congress fares. To obtain information about the fares and/or tickets at the discounted prices, please contact the nearest SAS office or SAS appointed travel agent. For more details please go to www.scandinavian.net. Kindly refer to the advertisement in this folder, referring to the following fare reference: DK 0240

Liability and Insurance

Neither the Organisers nor the Conference Bureau will assume any responsibility whatsoever for damage or injury to persons or property during the Conference. Participants are recommended to arrange for their personal travel and health insurance.

Visa and Invitations

For all matters concerning visa and invitations, please refer to the Conference Bureau at DIS Congress Service.

Climate

The weather in Denmark in August is normally very pleasant, usually sunny. However, on occasion an umbrella may be useful. Daytime average temperature is around 20° C, evening temperature around 15° C.

Banks

Normal banking hours are from 09.30 to 16.00 hrs Monday to Friday. On Thursdays banking hours are extended to 18.00 hrs. Extended banking facilities are available at Copenhagen Central Railway Station 7 days/week between 07.00 and 21.00 hrs. There are automatic cash dispensers, usually located in connection with a bank branch, which accept a variety of international credit cards. The cards accepted are indicated on the dispenser.

Shops

Shops are open from 09.30/10.00 to 17.30/18.00 hrs Monday to Friday. A few department stores in the city have longer opening hours. On Saturdays the shops are open until 13.00/14.00 hrs but they are closed on Sundays.

Tips

Tips are always included in the prices given in taxis and restaurants.

Electricity

Electricity is supplied at 230 volts A/C, 50 Hz cycle.

Emergency Services

Police – Ambulance – Fire Brigade: * Dial 112
